

Research Interest:

- Labor and Motivation
- Economic History
- Impact of Regulation

Richard Parsons, Ph.D., CMA, MBA, CPIM

7101 University Avenue • Texarkana, TX 75503 • 903.223.3006 • RParsons@tamut.edu

Professor of Economics and Finance; Fall 2013 - Present

Texas A&M University – Texarkana

Recently Taught Courses (Past 2 Years)

- ECO 576 – Macroeconomic Theory and Policy
- ECON 2302 – Principles of Microeconomics
- FIN 354 – Financial Management
- FIN 484 – Financial Institutions Mgt
- FIN 565 – Managerial Finance

Education

- University of Utah; Provo, UT
Ph.D. in Economics 2011
- Brigham Young University; Provo, UT
MBA in Finance 1982
BA in Economics, 1980

Academic Experience

Texas A&M University – Texarkana; Texarkana, Texas

Professor of Economics and Finance, Fall 2013– Present

Kent State; Kent, OH

Adjunct Professor of Specialty Graduate economics, Fall 2015 to Fall 2017

Westminster College; Salt Lake City, UT

Assistant Professor of Economics and Business Planning, Fall 2009 to Fall 2013
